Singer Captivates Local Audience

Miss Juanita Reese, talented lyric soprano, and Mrs. Mary Jordan, pianist, gave a very pleasing concert in the high school auditorium on Thursday, April 14.

These young ladies deserve high praise in the handling of their difficult classical selections. Miss Reese's numbers, sung in German and Italian, brought out the depth and quality of her voice and revealed marvelous breath control. Her Negro spiritual selections left room for nothing but praise and perhaps were the favorites of the small but enthusiastic audience.

Mrs. Mary Jordan delighted the audience with numbers of Beethoven, Scarlatti and Chopin. There were handily with grace, ease and a thorough understanding of piano.

Miss Reese plans another tour in the not too distant future and it is to be hoped she will favor us with another concert.

The senior choir of Knox United church are to be commended for sponsoring this fine entertainment.

All choir members, husbands and wives, and the two artists enjoyed a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Morris following the concert.

Gillie had been elected fifth vice-president and counselor of the provincial chapter.

A very interesting travel talk was given by Mrs. M. Walton on her continental tour. A nice lunch was served by the hostesses.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Editor, The Pioneer.

Didsbury, Alberta.

Dear Sir:

Through the medium of your paper, may I express appreciation to the choir of Knox United Church for giving us the opportunity to hear and see Miss Juanita Reese and her very able accompanist last Thursday evening.

Now that we have a splendid auditorium, may this be just the beginning of musical treats. In Monday's Calgary Albertan, Mr. Walter Harris of Red Deer mentioned what an enjoyable Easter Monday Red Deer had when the boys' choir of the Cathedral Church of the Redeemer, Calgary sang — perhaps Didsbury will have the privilege of hearing this choir during 1955.

We certainly do not lack local organizations in Didsbury. Let us hope that some of these organizations avail themselves of the opportunity to sponsor musical evenings similar to the delightful performance last Thursday.

Yours truly,

"HOPEFUL"

New Prime Minister - Sir Anthony

There was much enthusiasm in Britain over the long expected appointment of Sir Anthony Eden as Prime Minister.

He has well earned this regard. Ever since 1918 when he was left at the age of 17 to volunteer for the infantry in the first world war, he has served his country continuously and well. Minister, adjutant of his battalion at the age of 19 — youngest adjutant in the British army — and a brigade major when he was 21, having in the meantime won the Military Cross by an act of exceptional bravery. When the war ended he resumed his education and at Christ's College, Oxford, took a First Class Honours degree in Oriental languages. Eden's growing interest in politics and particularly in foreign affairs led inevitably — at the age of 26 — to his election to Parliament.

In the House of Commons, Eden soon made his mark and it was not long before Sir Austen Chamberlain, then Foreign Secretary appointed him his Parliamentary Private Secretary and so started him on his long association with the Foreign Office. Promotion followed rapidly and he threw his heart into his work with particular zest as Minister in charge of League of Nations affairs. Eden saw clearly the dividing line between conciliation and appeasement and this brought him to the point when, in 1938, rather than to further concessions to the bluster and threats of Mussolini, he resigned from Neville Chamberlain's Government in which he was then Foreign Secretary.

When, later, with the nation at war, Churchill became Prime Minister and formed his government, Eden was — perhaps before all others — the man he wanted at his right hand. And Eden has been there ever since, a wise and dependable friend and colleague.

Towards the end of the war and before the general election sent his party out of office, Eden's last assignment was to lead the British delegation at San Francisco where the plan for the United Nations was shaped.

Shortly after that he was out of office until 1951. He had not before seen in action the organization he had helped to design, and on his first visit listened with amazement and distress to a bitter and violent polemical outburst by Mr. Vishinsky. "This is not what we intended in San

Notes From D.A.

By HOWARD J. FULCHER

This spring much of the seed that will be sown will be of an inferior quality due to the adverse weather conditions of the past year. Seed that has shrunk, weathered or damaged kernels is much more susceptible to various diseases in the soil than is strong seed. It is very important that this seed be treated with some mercury seed treatment.

The use of these mercury seed treatment chemicals will pay dividends to the grain growers. They control smut and other soil borne diseases, they help to prevent seed decay, they protect the seedling against many organisms in the soil. In addition they also will improve the yield by helping to ensure a strong and even germinating crop.

To ensure the best results the seed should be cleaned and of a good quality. Follow the directions of the manufacturer as to the amounts so that an over or under treatment does not result, over treatment is not good. In the mixing it should be thoroughly done to be sure that all of the kernels get a proper dressing. Formaldehyde will control smut but does not offer protection for the seed or seedling from seed rot, seedling blight, etc. When the seed is weathered badly or damaged to any extent or even if it is just a little weak the treating with formaldehyde will retard germination and in many cases will kill germination. It is therefore not recommended as a seed treatment.

Again remember that these mercury grain treatment chemicals are poisonous and as such must be handled with care. In addition seed that has been treated should not be fed to livestock and all treated grain should be marked as such and indicated poisonous to livestock.

Francisco — this is a tragedy!" he exclaimed afterwards, and that night he drafted a speech recalling the principles and hopes on which the UN had been built and pleading for fresh start in international relationships. He has himself tried hard to lower the temperature of controversy and to re-establish friendly contacts and mutual trust.

Last year the settlement of problems in Persia, Egypt and Trieste bore signs of his handwork and in the Geneva Conference he played a leading role in breaking down a particularly difficult deadlock first over Korea and then Indo-China.

Through The Study Window

By REV. C. C. ARMSTRONG

A Milk Disposal Unit, feminine type, was installed in our homes hold over two years ago. Since then several improvements have been added. The first of these was a change over in type of fuel tank, from the bottle-type to another very appropriately known as the tumbler. The intake manifold has worked very well with both systems and the unit has functioned with remarkable efficiency.

The biggest improvement has been in the Public Address system. At first this was useful only for transmitting distress signals, but not too satisfactory even for this purpose. Nowadays the unit serves as a walkie-talkie and especially in the privacy of the home, does very well indeed.

Such a Disposal Unit, (or if you prefer, a little girl) has a third feature that should not be overlooked. It consists in the power to teach the true meaning of family life. All too often the family relationship is considered from the biological, or blood-relationship basis. "Blood is thicker than water" is quoted as an explanation of alliance or unity within the family based upon a common blood relationship. Thus a family relationship broadens out into a tribal relationship, and this into a national relationship, and finally into a racial unity, but all of these groups are supposedly based upon a common blood.

Where a youngster becomes part of a family and yet has not any biological connection with it, the deeper meaning of family life becomes evident. They become integral part of the family because the real ties that bind people together are not of a common heredity but are truly spiritual, being a result of understanding, compassion, love, and mutual respect for each other as God-given personalities.

As I understand Christianity, it represents a transition from a faith in God based upon the concept of a "chosen race" to a faith in God who

Cancer And Toothache . . .

Only a fool would contend that cancer is less serious than an aching tooth. Yet many Canadians who have dental check-ups every six months never consult a doctor about possible cancer symptoms.

True, cancer is rarer than tooth decay. But it is not a remote possibility when we consider that one of every four Canadians is attacked by that disease at some time in life. Some cancer danger signals—seven in all—can be readily observed and should mean an immediate visit to a physician. Delay is dangerous. Only when cancer is treated in an early, localized stage is there a good chance of it being cured.

Other forms of this malady which are taking a major toll of lives in Canada, are revealed early by signs that have meaning only for a doctor. That is why the Canadian Cancer Society, in a nation-wide educational programme, is stressing the necessity for periodic medical examinations for all adults. Men over 45 are urged to have chest x-rays twice yearly to detect possible lung cancer, and women over 35 to have breast and pelvic examinations semi-annually.

The over-all Cancer Society programme of research to find new cures, service to patients, and further education designed to save lives, is financed by public contributions made during the Cancer Society's annual fund-raising drive which opens here April 1. We do not hesitate to commend this vital cause to your generous consideration. Many can help additionally by serving as campaign volunteers.

And when you visit your dentist for a check-up, let it remind you to see your doctor for a general physical examination as well. Let's give cancer at least as much concern as an aching molar.

has power to bind all the races of mankind together through the ties that are spiritual. It is a matter of generosity rather than genetics of consanguinity. It is a result of creed rather than breed.

Mother's Day, the second Sunday in May, is a fine opportunity to remember those who give us physical life and whose blessed privilege it is to lay the foundations of spiritual life. Baptismal services, at that time, give us an opportunity to dedicate our children, that in due time they may know within themselves the birth of the Spirit.

LIQUOR ENFORCEMENT

A hillbilly came to town carrying a jug of liquor in one hand and a shotgun in the other. He stopped a man on the street saying: "Here, friend, have a drink outa my jug."

The man protested he didn't drink. The hillbilly leveled his shotgun at the stranger and said: "Drink!"

The stranger drank, then shuddered, shook, shivered and coughed. "Gad, that's awful stuff," he sputtered.

"Ain't it," said the hillbilly. "Now hold the gun on me until I take a gulp."

What Other Papers Say . . .

Dubious about some of the new driving regulations in which a driver's fitness to operate a car is to be decided by a board instead of a court, The Staveley Advertiser writes: "Mr. Taylor says that he is going to have his department set up a filing system where every driver in the province will have his file. Into this file will go records of accidents and traffic violations. When the department decides that the driver has gone far enough in traffic violations far enough in traffic violations his license will be revoked and before he can get it back the offender will have to attend a driver's clinic which will give him instruction in driving and keep him under observation for driving habits. There can be an appeal and there will be a sort of court set up in the Traffic Department to hear and decide on the appeals. It all sounds like a very good plan except for one thing and that is vesting in officials and members of the Department of Highways the power to make decisions of what may be regarded as a legal nature.
Such a move would encourage bureaucracy of the worst sort. Let the Department of Highways work out such a plan but let it be administered by the democratic courts of the land. The plan is much more likely to be acceptable by the public and therefore succeed if this is done."

Wondering why the word "pasteurized" is being put on cartons of honey The High River Times suggests that this is an affront. "The little bee flits around in the clear, tonic air and sunshine, sipping fastidiously, choosing the sweetest nectar from the flowers of the earth, to confer upon mankind a product fit for the gods. Straight as an arrow it flies from garden to hive to deposit its nectar in immaculate bee-made containers. It does not seek the garbage dumps, nor loiter along the way to mingle with unsavory characters. . . . Offhand it appears that humans have got a bit above themselves when they start having the sweat upon the carpet for bacteria.
A person might well be ashamed to look the busy little bee in the eye this summer after harboring such suspicions. However, it is possible that the bold label "pasteurized" on the honey package is just hanky-panky sales' appeal. It doesn't taste any different and aside from the insult to the bees, it's the taste that counts."

The editor of The Camrose Canadian recently back from several months in the Western United States says there is one thing he doesn't understand since coming home from the States and that is the comparative price on bacon and ham. The U.S. farmer was getting 16 cents a pound for his live hogs when we were there, or the equivalent of 23 cents graded dressed weight according to Canadian marketing standards. Yet the top brands of cured bacon there—Swift's, Ar-mor's, Cudahy's—were selling 14 to 18 cents a pound cheaper than here.
The same held true in hams, but not quite such a marked spread on this other hand, their top cuts of beef were much higher than here. The sheep industry is coming into its own with an increasing demand for lamb

Motor Accidents
Cause 43 Deaths

During the first three months of this year, 43 deaths have resulted from motor accidents, according to a summary compiled from reports received by the Alberta Safety Council. In the same period last year, 41 deaths occurred on Alberta streets and highways.

The cumulative total for the first quarter reveals 884 persons injured in motor vehicle accidents. This was an increase of 55 over a year ago.
On the other hand, there was a reduction in motor accidents. The total for the three-month period was 4,430, which was down 31 from the similar quarter of 1934.

For the month of March only, the accident total was 1,428, which was 26 above the year ago figure. Of this aggregate, the RCMP reported 600 in Alberta towns and rural districts, a gain of nine. Edmonton showed 410 accidents, compared with 393 for March of last year. The 295 reported by Calgary was a drop of 31. Medicine Hat reported 29, an increase of six, while Lethbridge had 51, which was a decrease of three.

Jasper Place, which is Alberta's largest town, reported 12 accidents, doubled the number for March of last year, while the total of 39 for other Alberta towns was a drop of 8.

Fatalities in motor accidents during March numbered 11, which was one more than March, 1934. The RCMP reported 6 in towns and rural districts, while Edmonton and Calgary each had two and Lethbridge one. A year ago, Edmonton had two fatalities for the month and Calgary one.

The Wainwright Star-Chronicle asking "What of the future?" feels that Social Creditors have "made it their business to undermine the confidence of the public in the institutions that served them, whether government or private — and naturally they made lots of converts — the results at the polls prove that."

The editor of The Mildmay Gas-ette, Ontario, answers sharply an uncomplimentary crack about his backslabhood. "We think this is making unfair advantage of a situation over which we have no control — so far the editor hasn't found the girl darn fool enough to marry him."
